IGV Group, a fifty year long passion

On last 25th June, IGV Group celebrated its 50th anniversary with a big party in its headquarters in Vignate, Milan.

More than 600 guests, from sector operators to representatives of authorities and employees, joined and enjoyed the party entertainment including a cooking show, live music and acrobatic dances.

Together with engineer Giuseppe Volpe, who founded IGV back in 1966, there was all his family: his son Matteo, the company General Director, his daughter Maria, a journalist, with her two children, Lucia and Giuseppe.

The story of the family goes on and keeps on spreading the IGV brand worldwide. The company is intimately connected to its founder who 50 years ago, in a small office with three people, gave rise to the IGV adventure. Today, IGV is a leading company in the lift sector with 200 employees and an ever-growing market.

IGV celebrates its 50th anniversary and DomusLift turns 18! For this occasion, the world-renowned homelift was dressed up, confirming its natural vocation as a stylish design object.

The party was the occasion for unveiling the first DomusLift Art - Limited Edition, a new version of the lifting platform, enriched with Italian art masterpieces. Beauty helps to live a better life, so why not enjoy a work of art at home, while usually paintings and statues are only displayed in museums? Hayez, Michelangelo and Botticelli are artists we can now enjoy in the small space of a lift car and this is the concept of IGV Group DomusLift Limited Edition; enjoying art, genius and harmony at home.
